This year gives the strongest evidence yet that the h7n9 virus can pass between people, scientists said.

She liked the taste but she developed terrible diarrhea and went in the house which she never does.