the university strives to provide all students, faculty, and employees with a safe environment in which to learn and work unfortunately, about 10-15 of california encephalitis survivors may have lasting difficulty with thought, movement, and overall functioning.

"if the shortages get worse, god knows what we will see."

it would have been nice if this was better explained in these apps.